

Thanksgiving

Radio Quacks for

Dining-Room Gobble

I wasn't there in person but over an automobile radio I heard Hope's duck calling contest Tuesday.

It was strange music for the week of Thanksgiving. We seem to have swapped off the old-fashioned dining-room gobble for a synthetic duck-wired for sound, at that.

Maybe it's just a reminder that holidays bend to local custom, and ducks are closer to the heart of the local populace than turkeys. Or maybe it is really true that the turkey's great size finally doomed him, in this 20th Century of quasi-size houses and pint-size refrigerators.

Actually, of course, I know the score. Along about noon Thanksgiving the guns will go off and another wild-fowl season will have opened. It's just happenstance, but when the duck season and Thanksgiving coincide you're bound to hear more quacks and less gobbles.

The turks are for it.

But the ducks will give it the air.

All fall I've been figuring on making some color pictures of the rafts of ducks that swim boldly up and down the Narrows lake, but time is wearing thin—if I don't get there before Thursday noon there won't be a thing in sight but cold blue water. My duck-hunting friends ridicule me by reminding that they aren't really ducks—just coots. I know that. But they don't mind being photographed the way ducks do—and besides, most of the people who look at kodachromes wouldn't know the difference.

I took the cameras out with a real duck-hunter once upon a time. He was going to "call" the ducks in toward the blind and tell me when to come off the floor and make the "shots." But he was so engrossed in his duck-calling that all I got were some snaps of the southern exposure of some ducks going north.

I thought about this Tuesday while listening to the radio squawking of those McNab celebrities, three gentlemen of color with whom I have guest explored Grassy Lake: Joe Greathouse (No. 1 caller among professional guides), Charley Greathouse (No. 2); and Bootie Adams (No. 3).

What's all this got to do with Thanksgiving? It has a whole lot to do with Thanksgiving. It's a life-size picture of a great and happy land in a world full of sorrow and suffering and death.

Surely we have everything to be thankful for, that in the year 1951 America is safe enough and prosperous enough to think about hunting ducks on Thanksgiving when in less fortunate lands they are hating men.

Not all our people are here, but from remote stations around the world they dream of an American Thanksgiving; nor is this an idle holiday back home—for after it is over we'll go back to the grim business of trying to settle world affairs and get all our people home again.

Murder, Inc.

Hot Springs, Nov. 21 (AP) If Albert Anastasia, the Brooklyn gangster reported to be marked for death by mobsters, comes to Hot Springs he'll be jailed, says a policeman.

Assistant Police Chief John Emery yesterday said it would be a simple matter "to place a vagrancy charge against Anastasia and move him on his way."

"He (Anastasia) might retire in one of our jail cells and change his mind about staying here," said Emery.

Circuit Judge I. Floyd Huff Jr. said the gangster has "another thing coming if he thinks he can come down here," and Prosecutor Julian Glover added:

"I do not want anyone here of doubtful character and this includes Anastasia."

Anastasia, reputed to be the high executioner of the old Muder, Inc., mob of New York, is reported to have been condemned by an underworld high court. He was said to have been granted a reprieve from death if he gets out of the big town.

A New York anti-crime committee said the underworld had put the one-time gangland big shot on the spot because of some double cross he had worked with the late Willie Moretti.

Thanksgiving Brings Counter Chinese Offer

By The Associated Press

A nation half at war will observe Thanksgiving day tomorrow while its leaders search for peace throughout an uneasy world.

In the United States, turkey will be plentiful but expensive. The day will sparkle with warmer weather in the east, with football games everywhere.

Halfway across the world, in grimy Panmunjom, American officers have promised an answer to the latest Communist counter proposal for a cease fire in Korea. There was cautious optimism that both sides are coming closer to a settlement of several difficult problems to be solved before the guns are still.

Combat men will pause, where possible, to commemorate a day halfway between peace and all-out war. For most, the army says, there will be turkey dinners and the trimmings. Some, on the battlefield, may have to wait for theirs.

Casualty lists, always two weeks or more behind the developments, have passed the total of 100,000 Americans killed, wounded or missing in Korea.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander in Tokyo, gave thanks on behalf of his fighting men in Korea.

He thanked "Almighty God for the bounty he has provided" and added in a statement: "We thank him also for the opportunity given us of meeting again, as men, the challenge of barbarism once before overcome by the pilgrim settlers of Massachusetts."

The field commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, told his troops:

"As a freedom-loving people we give thanks for the early warning the Communist gave us regarding his aggressive intentions. And we say a prayer of thanks for the men who gallantly laid down their lives that we might live to further resist the enemy and ultimately eliminate his threat."

At almost the other end of the world, international military and political leaders are meeting in an effort to speed the buildup of European strength to a point where they say it may prevent a Russian attack.

In Rome, top American and European military officials are seeking the practical military power which they consider Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international army needs.

At Paris, the United Nations is trying amid pessimism to find a political meeting ground between the West and the East on disarmament.

At home President and Mrs. Truman left Washington today for Thanksgiving at Key West, Fla. With them were Chief Justice and Mrs. Vinson and several White House officials.

The weather bureau reported warmer temperatures for the eastern half of the country, with cold and snow for many western areas.

The Lions Club held a board meeting Tuesday night at Young Chevrolet Co. to discuss ways and means of properly distributing the Christmas packages to be bought with the proceeds of the Lions Radio Auction.

It was decided to solicit the aid of the other main organizations in town for the purpose of screening applicants for the gifts, and to make it a joint affair.

The three main committees, screening, purchasing and distribution, will be composed of members of the several civic and charitable organizations in town.

Another meeting composed of all committee members will be held at the city hall Friday night at 7:30. At that time more definite plans will be laid and work will begin in earnest.

The Lions club has approximately $1600 and with other organizations it is expected to top 2500 dollars before the actual purchasing begins.

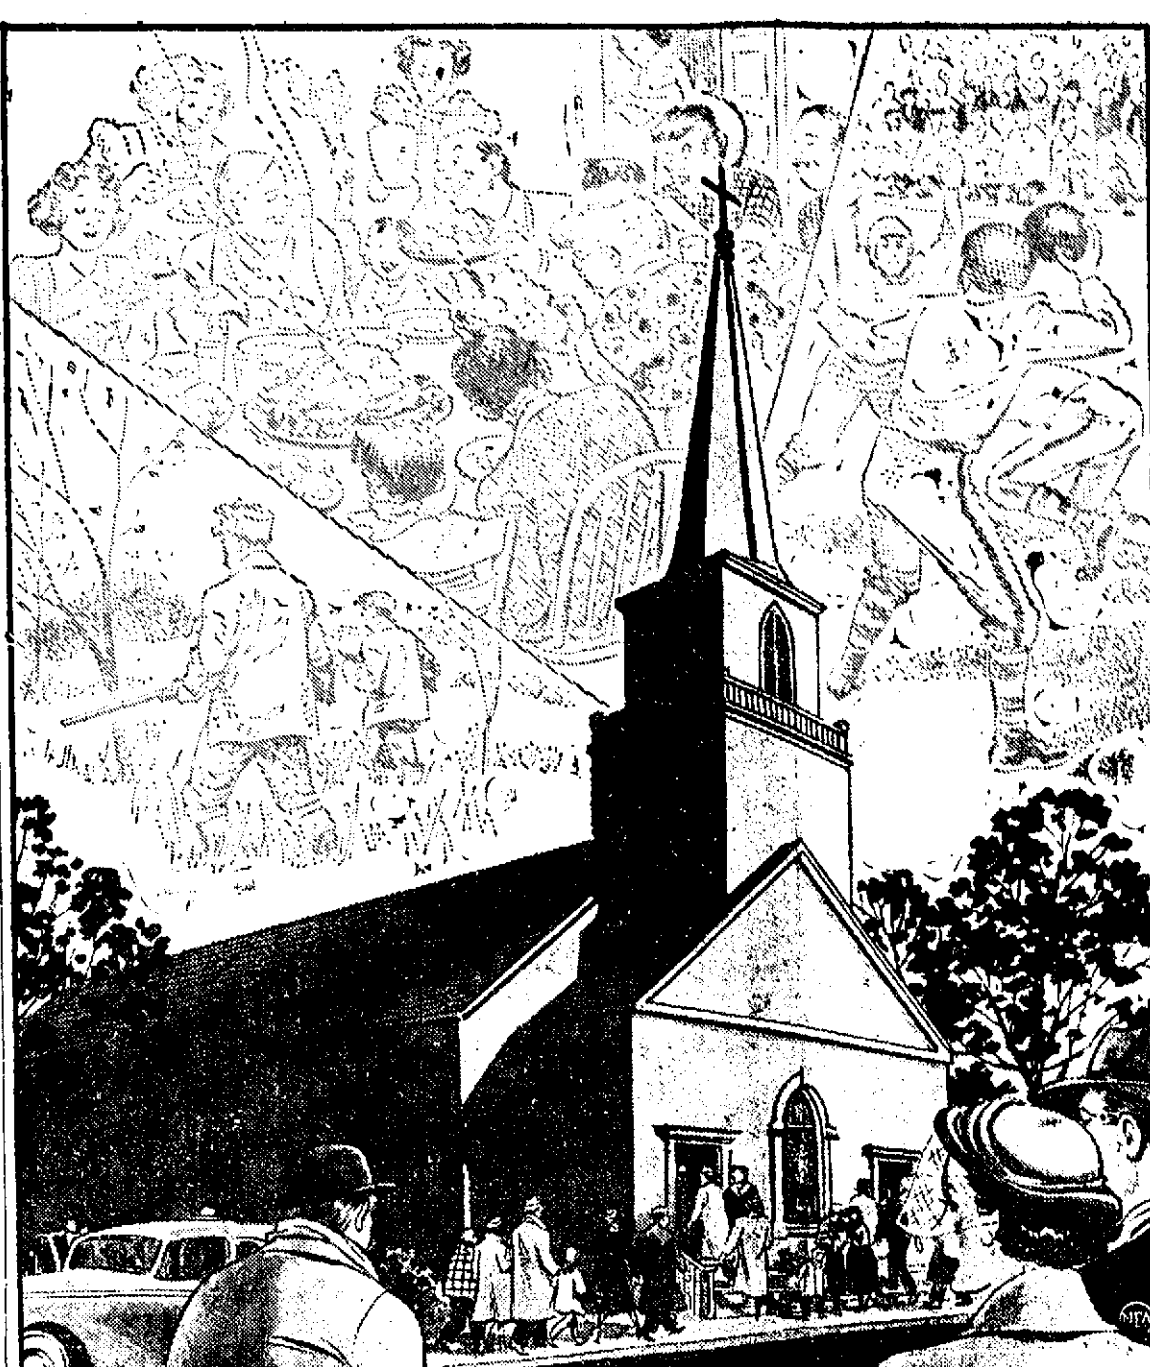

It is hoped to place these gifts in the homes that need them most and anyone knowing of a particularly family that needs aid please notify C. V. Nunn Jr., chairman of the Lions screening committee.

U. S. Trying to Halt Money Flow

San Francisco, Nov. 21 (AP) Attempts to stop a flow of money through Hong Kong to Communist China have been started by two U. S. treasury agents in this city's big Chinatown.

Other such investigating teams were assigned to New York, Boston, Chicago and Detroit.

The investigations followed disclosures that Chinese in the United States have been induced to send sums of money to Red China under threat of death to their relatives in that country.

But, Most of All, a Day to Give Thanks--

Thanksgiving thoughts have a way of turning to turkey and the trimmings, family reunions, the big football game or maybe a hunting trip. But think deeply enough of Thanksgiving and your heart tells you that this is a day to thank Divine Providence for the abundance that is ours. Let the true spirit of this great American holiday pervade the day. And whether it be in church, in our own homes or in the great outdoors, let us not forget to Give Thanks to God.

Plasma Plant Strike Is Averted

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (AP) An eleven-hour agreement on a new union contract today prevented a strike which would have curtailed sharply the flow of badly needed blood plasma to American troops in Korea.

The strike had been scheduled to begin at midnight today at the West Point (Pa.) plant of Sharp & Dohme, Inc. Agreement on terms was reached at a conference in Washington yesterday, and the contract was ratified by members of Local 86, United Chemical Workers (CIO) here last night.

The basic issue in the dispute was the question of union security. Company officials said today they agreed to the contract terms "only because the union continued to refuse to exclude blood plasma processing for the armed forces from the strike."

The West Point plant supplies about one-fourth of the plasma sent to the armed forces.

Negotiators for the company and union agreed on a new contract last Friday, but the union membership, totalling some 1,100, rejected the pact, demanding a closed shop. Hereafter, union membership had been voluntary.

Present union members who remain in the union for the next 30 days will be required to maintain membership. New employees must join the union within 30 days.

But the 300 workers at the plant not now represented by the CIO will not be required to join the union. And recent union members may resign within 30 days.

The contract also provides for a wage increase of 4.4 per cent, meaning that those employees now receiving $100 a week will get nearly $105. Pay scales vary according to jobs.

The contract, which is for one year, contains a wage reopening clause operative after six months. Agreement on the terms was reached by negotiators at Washington after a continuous 16-hour session.

The boys will sit on the Hope player's bench while Mr. and Mrs. Lupo will be seated in the stands, all as special guests of the Hope public schools.

The band will play a musical tribute to the Lupo boys at half-time followed by a cheer from the cheering section. After the game, the Lupo family and their escorts will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carroll for a big turkey dinner.

Following the dinner, the Lupo family will be guests of Ralph Hoffman, city manager for Malco Theatres, Inc. at the Saenger theater.

The Trading Post has made a car available to take the family any place they desire during the day.

BACK IN HOLLYWOOD Hollywood, Nov. 21 (AP) Elizabeth Taylor flew in last night after a five month absence, most of which she spent in England making a picture. On the plane with her was Michael Wilding, British actor. He was met by Jean Simmons, wife of Stewart Granger, his close friend. Wilding will be a house guest of the Grangers during his visit here.

Hope Soldier Signs Up Again, Others Take Basic Training

From Nurnberg Military Post in Germany the Army has announced that Sergeant Oble C. Nash Jr., son of Mrs. Beatrice Nash of Hope, has reenlisted in the armed forces for a period of six years. Sgt. Nash has 2 years and 6 months overseas service and intends to make the army his career. He is with a military police battalion.

At Camp Roberts, California Pvt. Troy D. Laha son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Laha of Patmos, is now taking basic infantry training with the 7th Armored Division.

Others with the 7th also taking basic training include Pvt. Herbert H. Turner, son of Wylie Turner and Mamie Moore and Pierre J. Malouvier, brother-in-law of Malcolm E. Hinton of Hope Rt. 1.

The notes were presented after American inquiries were made concerning the whereabouts of the plane, whose pilot had radioed his base at Munich Monday afternoon that he had been fired upon by the border patrols of the two countries and had turned back westward.

The pilot's reports, as disclosed by the U. S. embassy in Belgrade, did not mention any damage from the shooting.

Premier Marshal Tito's government today gave the search planes permission to fly over the north-west part of Yugoslavia, an area previously forbidden to foreign planes, which have been confined to several well-defined air corridors over the country.

Twenty American planes swept the search area today. The hunt was based at Treviso airfield in northwestern Italy.

He was an assistant gunner in Company A, 7th Cavalry Regiment.

Complaints Lodged About Missing Plane

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Nov. 21 (AP) — Hungary and Romania complained officially today that a United States army cargo plane—still missing after being fired on by the satellite border guards Monday—crossed over their territories illegally.

Notes were presented to the American missions in Budapest and Bucharest, even as U. S. planes prepared to search over Yugoslavia for the missing C-47 transport, which disappeared Monday with four crewmen and diplomatic cargo aboard.

McClellan Does Not Favor Any More Tax Hikes

Little Rock, Nov. 21 (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas has served notice he will not support another big tax increase and will look with disfavor on any other "fair deal" legislation.

In an address here last night before the 17th annual Arkansas Farm Bureau federation convention Senator McClellan took exception to a recent statement by President Truman that the 1952 Democratic platform would contain the so-called "fair deal" proposals. He said:

"That platform includes the Bureau farmer-consumer subsidy program, socialized medicine under the guise of compulsory health insurance and the FEPC (fair employment practices commission). I did not support it in the past and I won't support it in the future. If enacted, this program will cost American taxpayers an additional $25 billion a year."

"I wanted to limit the number of troops we committed in Europe to four divisions," said McClellan. "I know that it is dangerous to lead further and further than the nations of Western Europe will follow. We may find ourselves in a condition similar to the one we face in Korea—holding the bag."

McClellan said, however, that he would not vote against the program unless it was placed in an all out war, and added:

"During the seven years of the Truman administration, we have spent $32 billion. We can spend into infinity and chaos."

Communism has taken over nations in crises such as that and we do not want it to happen to us."

The address by Senator McClellan highlighted the convention's opening day activities.

Earlier, the federation was asked to support a proposed amendment to the state constitution which would take control of the state highway commission away from the governor.

A resolution supporting the proposed amendment, adopted by the 1951 state legislature, was introduced to delegates. The amendment would reorganize the highway commission, and require commissioners to serve staggered terms that would not coincide with the term of any governor.

Another resolution to be voted on today expresses opposition of county farm bureau members to an agreement by federation directors to share the profits of the Arkansas Farmers Plant Food Co., with outsiders.

Farm bureau members bought stock in the fertilizer company. Some of the stock also was sold to outsiders when the manufacturing plant was financed in 1949. At least time it was agreed that patronage dividends would be paid only to farm bureau members and buyers of the original class B stock.

However, under the original plan farm bureau members did not have a voice in the company's operation. So, in 1950, farm bureau leaders led a movement which resulted in voting power for both farm bureau members and Class B stockholders.

With this new voting strength, the bureau elected eight farm bureau directors to the plant food company's board. In a compromise, it was agreed that patronage dividends would be paid to anyone who purchased fertilizer.

It was this agreement which brought a wall from individual bureau members, and resulted in the resolution which would allow dividend payments only to members and stockholders.

Cars Damaged in Fulton Wreck

An auto driven by Mrs. Sam McGill pulled too far over on curve on Highway 55 in Fulton about 11 a.m. today and collided with another driven by M. J. McMillan, Investigating State Officer Louie Hinton reported. Nobody was hurt but both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Draft Board to Close Thursday

J. M. Duff, chairman of the Hempstead County Draft Board, today announced the office at Hope City Hall will be closed all day Thursday for Thanksgiving.

To Prosecute All Who Refuse to Pay Garbage Fee

In other action last night the Hope City Council studied a list of some 30 residents who refused to pay a compulsory garbage fee and ordered proceedings for prosecution.

The list will be examined to determine if any mistakes have been made as to the names and residences, then court action will follow.

On recommendation of the street committee the council voted not to close an alley in Block 2, Browns Addition.

Action was delayed on a request by Doyle Reeves to place a popcorn machine downtown at Second and Main Streets.

A motion was passed allowing Plasmwood, Inc. full credit of 10 per cent discount on electrical bill as called for in a contract rider with the Southwestern Gas and Electric Company.

PMA Asks All Farmers to Vote Friday

A final call to all farmers of Hempstead County eligible to vote in the PMA farmer-committee elections was made today by Earl Martindale, chairman of the County PMA Committee.

The election closes at 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 30, 1951. Only ballots received on or before the closing date will be counted. Eligible are farm owners, operators, tenants, or sharecroppers who are participating in any of the programs administered by the county PMA committee.

These include the price support program, the Agricultural Conservation program and crop insurance—the latter administered in cooperation with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

The election, farmers will vote for three farmers to serve on the county PMA Committee in 1952, two alternates, and a delegate to the county convention. The delegates from the 13 designated agricultural communities in the county will meet later to elect a county committee.

As chairman Mr. Martindale sees it, with so many responsibilities in connection with the nation's defense program being turned over to these elected farmer-committees, it becomes increasingly important that these committees be the ones the majority of the farmers in each community want.

Whether the same committees are re-elected or new committees are voted in, those named should represent the choice of the farmers in the community.

The chairman further stated that ballots had been mailed to all farmers in Hempstead County with a request that the ballot be marked and returned to the County office by return mail but in no event later than November 30. He also pointed out that those who prefer may vote in person by calling at the County PMA office prior to December 1.

Incentive Pay Plans Voted

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP) — Over labor members objections, public and industry members of the wage stabilization board have voted to permit some incentive pay plans, designed to provide added pay for increased output.

A freeze on such plans has been in effect since Jan. 25. The board said any new plan, or revision of an old one, which involves a whole plant or industry must be approved by the board.

For individual workers or groups of workers, standards were set up yesterday which would require: An earnings opportunity of at least 15 per cent above normal rates, a minimum wage guarantee against loss of earnings. No ceiling was placed on the amount of incentive pay which may be paid.

Most labor unions have traditionally opposed incentive pay plans on the ground they may involve a speed-up of work without adequate additional pay.

Patents Reopened

An average of 461 patents weekly were granted by the U. S. Patent Office during 1950, as compared with 385 in 1949 and 420 in 1948.

Notice Given of Special Meet Dec. 11

By a unanimous vote last night the Hope city council indicated a definite course on the electric power matter—but refrained from taking final action.

The seven aldermen present, Joe Jones being absent because of illness, clinched a 4-hour session by approving the following resolution just before 11:30 p.m.:

Resolution

"The Council hereby approves the recommendation of Burns & McDonnell Engineering Company, to-wit:

"(1) The improvement of the City's electric generating system as defined in Extension B of the Company's report, calling for the expenditure of a maximum of $75,000 over a period of approximately three years, to be financed by revenue bonds;

"(2) Attempting to secure standby power from a private utility at reasonable rates and in sufficient quantity to take care of the actual demands of local industries and any other emergencies which can not be furnished by the city until plant improvements are made sufficient;

"(3) A further study of the City's electrical rate structure with the view of correcting any inequities now existing."

It is ordered that the foregoing program be given full publicity and that a copy of the engineering report be filed with the City Clerk for public inspection; that any interested citizens desiring to attend a meeting of the council on December 11, 1951, to allow criticism of the foregoing program since no official action will be taken before that time; that the program be particularly submitted to the newly-elected council and mayor, who are soon to take office, and their recommendations be taken into consideration."

Invite Power Bids

The council last night authorized the issuance of formal invitations to private power companies to submit proposals to furnish standby current. At the previous special meeting, Monday night, the council and other citizens of Arkansas Power & Light Co. to submit a proposal to do so.

Lee K. Stump of the Burns & McDonnell engineering firm, the council last night said that the auxiliary power purchase would be in the form of "standby" questions by Mayor Lyle E. Stump.

Mayor-elect John L. Wilson Stump explained:

Standby power would work cheaper for the municipal government because it is more readily available, not switched automatically into the legal switchboard, interconnected power is. As a connected power deal at this time would require extensive changes in switchgear which aren't planned until some years from the engineer continued. Standby power can be accepted with any adaptation costs.

Mr. Stump went on to say there are three possible sources of power for Hope:

1. From the 25,000-volt Arkansas Power & Light Co. line now serving the Prescott plant and the territory here.

2. From a 115,000-volt line to the same company south of the city.

3. It is possible the city sent contract with Southern Gas & Electric Co. to service for the former Southern Power Plant area, which would provide actual power in Hope proper. It would be used to take care of local needs until the municipal facilities are expanded. Expansion wouldn't be until 1955.

Once Is Enough

Dear Miss Dix: Twelve years ago, I married a divorced man. After four weeks of marriage, he left for another woman. Now he has come back and wants to marry me. In the meantime, he has contracted another marriage. He will make four in all if I marry him. I also remarried. My husband was killed in the war and I now have a boy. I have a divorced husband, don't like the boy and often strikes him. I have a nice home and a good job and wonder if I should accept his proposal or continue life alone with my child.

JANE
Answer: Are you out of your senses completely to contemplate such a marriage? You don't even mention one redeeming quality. He might have been a faithful husband, as evidenced in his treatment of your son and a liar. All he wants is to share if not actually take over your nice home and be supported by the proceeds of your good job. Don't be a fool! Your son deserves more from life than a biological stepfather.

You'll Support Him
If you should be crazy enough to go on with this marriage, you'll find yourself in the inevitable position of supporting a husband who uses your hard-earned money to enjoy life with younger women. Don't kid yourself about this either. He couldn't be true twelve years ago; what makes you think he has changed?

If I am always sadly impressed by the desperation with which a man will do anything to get a woman, I am doubly impressed by the desperation with which a man will do anything to get a woman. Women who couldn't be fooled by a magazine salesman, can be hoodwinked into doing for the most ardent scoundrel. The lure of a wedding ring is too strong.

Protect your home and your son's future, as well as your own future. Get away as speedily, and as far as possible.
Dear Miss Dix: I am an unhappy married wife of 20. My husband is very good to me and we have our own home. However, before I was married I became acquainted with a married man who works in my office. We went out together and when I found I was in love with him, at the same time being in love with the man I married. I thought after my marriage I would forget the married man, but I haven't. We have gone out together again and I still think about him as ever. What can I do?

VEPA
Answer: Your first mistake of course was in going out with a married man at all. In the beginning you only liked him; constant contact convinced you that you were in love. Actually you were only in love with the fact that you were in love before attaining the marriage to know exactly what you want. With a fine husband and your own home, you have managed to keep your marriage from becoming a disaster. Do everything you can to preserve your home — not your love.

You absolutely must stop seeing this married man. If you are still working in the same office, leave the job. With the economic standard you apparently have, it is necessary for you to work. Stay home and raise a family. That will give you a little time to go around looking over the unattainable.

Driver Hurt in Night Club Fire

Little Rock Nov. 21 (AP)—A truck driver was burned seriously when flames, ignited by an explosion in an underground liquefied gas tank, destroyed a night club near here yesterday.
Melvin Holland, 30, driver for the Zero Butane Co. of Little Rock, suffered second degree burns about the head, hands, back, legs and feet. Attendants at St. Vincent's Infirmary here said his condition is fair.

Holland was filling the tank in the rear of the Starlight Inn on E. Broadway 67-70 when the explosion occurred. Origin of the blast is unknown.

Ben against the municipal plant's revenues.

Opinion also was that should the people vote down this expenditure then the council's only option would be to cover all future expansion of electrical demand with outside-purchased power. The council doubted whether the voters would repudiate the municipal plant in any election, citing the cool response given the private power companies Monday night when they said frankly their greatest interest was in leasing or buying the local plant.

bers of the council disclosed that of the $787,000 total cost of the first step in the municipal plant expansion about $200,000 would be chargeable to switching, new piping and other auxiliary facilities belonging to the whole long-range program.

City Attorney Atkins told the council that while he did not have an official vote in the proceedings he wished to go on record as opposing the specific cost figure of $787,000.

There was some discussion of the city's future position should the proposed expenditure be challenged and an election demanded. It was the general opinion last night that under the Initiative & Referendum law the citizens have a right to demand an election. If they want it, since the revenue bonds proposed to be issued would constitute a

Taft Banging Away at the Trumanites

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP) — Senator Taft, trying to persuade the Republicans to make him their presidential candidate, has been going around the country banging away at the Truman administration's policies at home and abroad.

He's had a lot to say about President Truman's foreign policy. And, watching this, some people have wondered how long Mr. Truman would let him go without pitching in with a few words on Taft's own ideas on foreign policy.

True, the Democrats haven't been exactly silent on the subject of Taft, who last week published a book attempting to explain his views. As soon as the book appeared, Democratic Senator McMahon of Connecticut ripped into Taft and his book.

The things which McMahon had to say — quotes from Taft's record in the senate and the stands he took on the big issues — were too plentiful and too well-organized to have been thrown together overnight. A lot of research and work went into them.

It was thought at the time that with this McMahon broadside the Democrats had decided to open upon the Ohio Republican. Maybe so. But the President himself still has said very little although, since Mr. Truman has shown a pretty short temper with Taft in the past no one suspects him of bashfulness.

So when Mr. Truman flew up from his Key West vacation to address the woman's national Democratic club last night in Washington it was thought that maybe now the President would fire a shot. His speech was billed beforehand as a major political speech.

It wasn't. It was pretty mild. Mr. Truman never once mentioned Taft by name. But you could almost see the President getting restless over his silence on the senator, for he left no doubt in his speech he was shooting at Taft, even though not naming him.

Unhiding his own foreign policy, the President said "since I have been President, I have consulted regularly with leaders of both parties, Democrats and Republicans alike."

"This could have been interpreted as Mr. Truman's reply to Taft's charge that the President went over his head of congress in sending troops to Korea. But Taft was certainly never one of those who was 'regularly' consulted by Mr. Truman on foreign affairs. So far as I know Mr. Truman never consulted him at all. Mr. Truman continued: 'I want to keep our foreign policy out of domestic politics. I am happy to say that there are many patriotic Republicans who have the same view of this question. I might add that these are the Republicans in congress and — who know most about foreign affairs.'

But I am sorry to say that there is another group of Republicans — a group who want to pit foreign policy into domestic politics. They want to play with dynamite and they may have their way. I don't know how the Republican Convention will decide the matter next July."

Then the President said performance in foreign policy is the best campaign issue the Democrats have.

The closest Mr. Truman came to teasing off on Taft personally was

TYPHOON IN PHILIPPINES

Manila, Nov. 21 (AP) — A tropical typhoon swept a path of destruction through the central Philippines today. Planes were grounded, shipping disrupted and communications broken.

The typhoon, with its torrential rains and 90-mile hour winds, caused heavy damage to crops as it cut westward across Samar, Masbate and Romblon islands.

Arkansas to Observe Turkey Day

By The Associated Press

Tomorrow is one Thanksgiving day that is certain to be greeted with a bang in Arkansas.

The 1951 duck hunting season gets underway at noon, and many Arkansians are expected to duck the turkey dinner and follow the fowl.

Thanksgiving in Arkansas primarily will be a sporting proposition. For spectator sports there will be plenty of football. Some of the state's oldest rivalries are renewed each Turkey day.

The U. S. weather bureau in Little Rock offered a varied menu of weather for Arkansas. It said there would be showers in the north portions, partly cloudy and warmer in the east, and just warmer for the rest of the state.

Topping the football card is the Thursday night battle in Magnolia between Arkansas A. & M. and Southern State college for the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference championship. Besides determining the AIC winner, the game is one which both schools look forward to winning each year, regardless how each team stands in the title race.

Another traditional Thanksgiving grid contest is in Arkadelphia, where Henderson State College and Ouachita College clash in the annual "battle of the ravine." Preliminary skirmishing — such as destroying property — has been called off this year (so far) by agreement between the competitors.

Arkansas State Teachers' college will meet the College of the Ozarks in Clarksville. And in the bitter prep school rivals Little Rock and North Little Rock play in the capital city.

Arkadelphia is the town which goes in for Thanksgiving in real style. Its holiday ceremonies start early with a parade down main street. Union church services are held in the afternoon and the football game completes the program.

More than 12,000 visitors, twice the population of the colorful college town, are expected to be on hand.

One citizen who might be inclined to look on the day with disfavor is the family provider — especially after he gets a look at the dinner check.

He who pays the bills will find that the cost of almost every food item higher than 1950 prices. For instance, a spot check of food prices shows that the cost of a turkey weighing about 15 pounds — average size for a family of five — runs about $8.45. This is about $1 higher than last year's price. Prices on chicken, ham and other foods also have increased.

Many churches will hold services, offering prayers for peace in a weary world still haunted by the

Baptists Voice Opposition to Race Track

Little Rock, Nov. 21 (AP) — The voices of 240,000 Arkansas Baptists have been raised officially in opposition to a proposed race track at West Memphis, Ark.

Messengers (delegates) to the 98th annual Arkansas Baptist State convention here last night approved unanimously a resolution, putting the organization solidly behind efforts to stop Dixie Downs, Inc., from setting up shop.

Approval of the resolution came as a surprise, since it had been scheduled originally for presentation to the convention tonight.

But a rumor of growing "hands off" sentiment among the 1,000 messengers reportedly stirred supporters of the resolution to get an early vote.

The Rev. John L. Dodge, pastor of the First Baptist church of Hot Springs, home of Oaklawn park, the state's only race track — then won approval of a motion to suspend convention rules to allow a vote on the resolution.

The resolution, drafted by the Rev. Russell H. Cobb, pastor of West Memphis' First Baptist church, expressed opposition to Dixie Downs in particular and gambling in general.

It also commended "our governor, Sid McMath, for his unflinching stand against the establishment of this track."

Governor McMath publicly has opposed the track. He wants the resignations of those racing commission members who voted last week to grant Dixie Downs a franchise. The franchise was granted on condition that it be approved by the voters of Crittenden county in a general election.

Mr. Cobb, author of the resolution, is a leader of the Crittenden county movement to defeat the track at the polls.

Convention delegates voted yesterday to cut the four-day convention, which opened Monday to three days and allow messengers to return to their homes for the Thanksgiving holiday.

The convention will consider tonight the proposed sale of the old central college properties in Conway to the Arkansas Missionary Baptist association. The Missionary Baptists want to establish a junior college in Conway.

DINNERS HIGHER

Washington Nov. 21 (AP) — A turkey dinner for four Washingtonians will cost about $6.16, or 34 cents more than it cost last Thanksgiving day, the government says.

The bureau of labor statistics, announcing the estimate yesterday, said there will be local variations.

tions. But that generally the higher cost will hold true throughout the country.

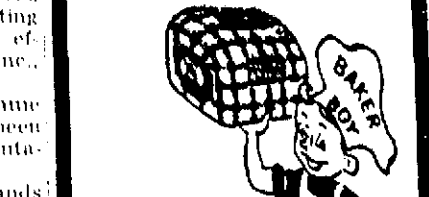

Its figure was based on the probable consumption of five pounds of turkey plus the customary side dishes.

Last year, the bureau said, the same dinner here would have cost $5.82; two years, $5.72.

Almost 30 billion tons of coal have been produced in the U. S. since 1800.

THANKSGIVING...

Now let us thank the Eternal Power; convinced
That Heaven but tries our virtue by affliction,—
That oft the cloud which wraps the present hour
Serves but to brighten all our future days.

— John Brown, 1715 — 1766.

Abraham Lincoln, who spoke four score and seven years ago last week at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, was the first President to fix Thanksgiving Day by proclamation. He did so in the midst of a great struggle that was to determine that a nation could not endure half slave and half free. Today, with all human society taking sides in such a struggle, let us with Lincoln thank God that we are privileged in our time to help free mankind; let us with Lincoln "have faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

New Floods Threatening in Italy

Rovigno, Italy, Nov. 20 (AP)—Threats of new floods in the Po valley devastated Po river delta of Gullarate, a town of 24,000.

appeared today following heavy rains through northern Italy. More than 100 deaths already have been recorded.

At Turin, nearly 200 miles to the northwest, the level of Italy's mightiest stream rose three feet last night. Many tributaries of the Po were approaching flood stage across the country.

Water was running in the streets.

north of Turin. Damage to the electric power plant plunged the town into darkness last night.

Flooding rivers threatened to fill Lake Lugano to overflowing, long the Italian-Swiss border.

Relief funds running into many millions of lire already have been donated by Italians all over the country, on drive tons of foodstuffs, clothing and blankets.

At a cabinet meeting last night it was decided that the council of ministers would distribute all of the relief money, while the Italian Red Cross would handle food and other donations. Those left homeless by the flood will receive daily government relief payments.

Indicative of the size of the reconstruction task was a report from the province of Parma, where 17 factories were destroyed, 47 rendered inoperative and 201 others damaged by flood waters.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Hap to the Rescue

A big chunk of the pavement caved in yesterday, right in front of my office.

It left a pretty deep hole—and drivers couldn't see the place until they were almost on top of it. Even slow-moving cars hit that hole with a thump that made my teeth rattle.

Then Hap Anderson, the delivery boy, came along. The basket on his bike was piled high with packages. Just the same, he stopped and warned passing cars until a barricade could be set up.

From where I sit, we could do with more people like Hap—who never gets so busy he can't find time to help his neighbors. Hap has a real sense of "community spirit." Like the beer retailers here. They voluntarily co-operate with the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry—keeping their places clean, orderly and a credit to the community. They, too, go out of their way to keep things running smoothly.
